

Applicant Credibility Loan Approval System

The system provides the most relevant attributes that help in determining whether to approve or reject the loan application. This aids in predicting the credibility of future customers.

